The growth of Live Well San Diego has resulted in a higher demand for data and information. To help keep the public informed of our collective progress, two data platforms have been developed for harnessing and understanding data.

DATA & RESULTS

A reporting platform for sharing progress over time on the Live Well San Diego Top 10 Indicators and Expanded Indicators in San Diego County with state and federal comparisons where available. This public facing, web-based data tracking and visualization tool is user-friendly, interactive, and can be used by partners, community, individuals, and other governing bodies.

OPEN PERFORMANCE DASHBOARD

A single repository for reliable public data that optimizes access, use and exploration by the public. Data can be displayed in a spreadsheet, chart or graph format, and any user can create a private workspace to save his or her research and customized views of the data created from the datasets.
