- Education and Workforce Preparedness - We understand that a successful corporation must actively participate in society. We believe in the importance of giving back to our communities and in the power of education. Over the years, the Xerox Community Involvement Program has funded over 18,000 projects supported by over 400,000 employees. As a founding partner in FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology), we help kids channel their curiosity into an interest in science and math. Other investments in this focus area of education and workforce preparedness included: Teach for America; Prep for Prep; the National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering; United Negro College Fund; Posse Foundation; and the Hispanic Scholarship Fund.
- Science and Technology - The Xerox Science Consultant program enjoys a rich history of nearly 50 years. The goal of the program is to improve student attitudes towards science, make it fun, interesting and accessible. Xerox Science Consultants deliver hands-on science lessons to students in grades 4-6 that "make science cool."
- Preserving the Planet - Working to protect our planet creates a healthier environment for all and ensures an abundant future for our children. We engage in many environmentally focused initiatives, such as the new recycling and return program to recover more toner and supplies for reuse. We develop environmentally-responsible technology, like our patented EA toner, producing better print quality with less toner, less waste and less energy. Employees compete for Earth Awards given for the best ideas to eliminate waste for customers and ourselves.
- Employee and Community Affairs - Under the umbrella of employee and community affairs, the Foundation manages two employee volunteer programs:
 - Social Service Leave enables a select group of employees to volunteer full time and at full pay. Since 1971. A select number of Xerox employees have been granted fully paid leaves of absence from their jobs to serve full-time on social action projects of their own design and choosing.
 - The Xerox Community Involvement Program marries the voluntary spirit of our people with Xerox funding to participate in the betterment of the communities where we live and work.

Xerox has helped shape the idea of corporate social responsibility. Our efforts reflect our belief that a successful corporation must be an active participant in society, and we are committed to giving back to the communities from which we draw our employees, our customers, and our freedom to conduct business.
